BREAK THE FLEA LIFE CYCLE THE POWERFUL, NATURAL WAY

Flea Destroyer's biological approach to flea control is safe for pets, people and plants—as well as our planet. It also won't harm beneficial insects like ladybugs, lacewings and praying mantids, as well as earthworms.

AN APPEALINGLY EARTH-FRIENDLY ANSWER

The beneficial nematodes in Flea Destroyer are naturally at home in soil, bark and even ground litter. Traveling through the ground, they penetrate flea larva and release a bacteria that kills them. Breaking the flea life cycle so there's no next generation of adults to deal with.

CONVENIENT ANNUAL TREATMENT

One container of Flea Destroyer provides sufficient beneficial nematodes to kill the flea larvae in approximately 2,000 square feet of yard under ideal conditions, or 1,000 square feet for heavier infestations. Persistent problems may require a second application. While its larva-killing activity may last for up to two years, annual applications are recommended.

EASY FOR CLIENTS TO APPLY

Flea Destroyer is simple to prepare. All you need is water. And it can be applied to different parts of a lawn and garden using a hose-end sprayer, pump or tank sprayer, or a watering can.

Now you can satisfy the growing demand for safe and environmentally responsible pest-control solutions. Introduce your clients to Flea Destroyer—and give them the power to stop fleas before they even get started.
